As part of the DAAD Deutschlehren International programme, I am undertaking a two-semester appointment as a teaching assistant at the University of Melbourne, where I instruct courses within the German Department across various language proficiency levels.

My teaching approach strikes a balance between introducing language fundamentals to beginners and exploring cultural studies topics that align with my own research interests.

I believe that the true joy of language acquisition is best conveyed through immersive, continuous learning — an experience that fosters deeper engagement and understanding.

Im Rahmen des DAAD-Programms Deutschlehren International verbringe ich als Lehrassistentin zwei Semester an der University of Melbourne, wo ich Kurse des German Departments auf verschiedenen Sprachniveaus unterrichte.

Der Schwerpunkt liegt dabei einerseits auf Sprachunterricht im Anfängerbereich, andererseits auf Themen der Cultural Studies anschließend an eigene Forschungsinteressen.

Freude am Sprachenlernen lässt sich besonders gut vermitteln, wenn man sie selbst auch durch ständiges Weiterlernen erlebt.
